

I fully support XM Radio and its weather broadcasting any attempt to stop it will be considered political and driven by the special interests of am/fm radio broadcast industry.....if there was a strong lobby for wood cooking stoves 100 years ago and transitioning to today....just think....there probably would just be wood stoves!!!! No micro waves etc....the digital world and progress is here and will continue to bring dynamic change to the market place